

Bibliography of Related Works

The following bibliography is offered as listing of completed works related to the transformative models created by Nelson, Low, and students and colleagues. The first section contains works in the form of books, articles, and papers. Doctoral dissertations and significant master's theses are contained in the second of two sections. It is our intention to maintain the bibliography related to this EI theory and work on our website at www.elearningssys.com/?page_id=65. We will also include updated versions of the bibliography in future volumes of The International Journal of Transformative Emotional Intelligence.
